Scorekeeper must tell the umpire when it is 10th batter. Ties will stand in the T-ball division, we do not keep tally of win lose record.

BATTING:

Ten people will bat per inning, maximum number in any inning.

No batter can bat more than once out of every 10 turns unless there are fewer than 10 players. If there are only 9 players, bat 1 thru 9, then 1 bats again. The second inning, batter 2 bats first, then bat thru the line-up, and batter 2 is the 10th batter. Then so forth.

Score keeper must tell the umpire when the 10th batter is up. The inning ends when the 10th batter completes his/her time at bat. The umpire must be notified by the scorer and batting coach when the 10th batter is up to bat. All players will bat in order until every member has batted.

Batting order cannot be changed during the game, except to add a late arriving player to the end of the order, or to remove a player leaving early or injured. No bunting is allowed.

BALL IN PLAY:

The umpire places the ball on the tee and signals "PLAY BALL".

The batter attempts to hit the ball off the tee.

There will be an arc from 1st baseline to the 3rd baseline 10 feet from home plate. The ball must travel beyond the arc. If a fielder picks it up before leaving the arc, it is foul ball.

If the ball is hit within the arc, runners on base cannot advance.

If the bat hits the tee and ball simultaneously, it will be ruled a fair ball as long as the conditions for a fair ball are met. There will be no base stealing and no lead offs.

GROUND RULES:

If a ball is overthrown and goes out of the playing area, all runners must hold at that base or stop at the base they were already attempting to reach (umpire's discretion). Any runner that is hit by a batted ball is out. If it has been touched first by any fielder while in fair territory, they are NOT OUT.

STOPPING RUNNERS:

When a defensive player has control of the ball in the base area in front of runners, the play is dead and the defensive player can throw the ball to the catcher (or home plate area) without any advancement from the runners. The umpire will call "time" when, in his judgment the play has been stopped. If a play is being made on a runner and the ball travels into foul territory, the play is dead.

COACHING POSITIONS:

Only one coach may enter the playing field during play when their team is playing defense. It is understood that the coach must not physically interfere with the play or in any way delay the progress of the game. Coach position must be behind 2nd base, and cannot touch any player.

Offensive coaches may not touch any player at any time that the player is running the bases or that player is out. When batting, coaches may verbally aid their runners from 1st and 3rd base.

COACHING TIPS

You need several people to coach a T-Ball team. During the games you will need a 1st base coach, 3rd base coach, one helping the batters and keeping the batters in order.
